You've seen the oldest camper, now meetprobably the youngest · 6

What's going on atMEST $UP_{2} \cdot 4/5$

Global Village - a firstweek roundup · 8

DOLE 3 Global

Friday August 4 2006

The New spaper of Global VIIIage

Dubble agents unseatcorruptManaging Director

Changing the world chunk by chunk

Youth Parliament GV06

Chocolish, the cocoa barons you love to hate, the m anaging director introduced record profits made by driving down prices paid to farmers for their crop. "These workers have had it easy for too long," she said. Sadly for her, but happily for cocoa farmers, the assem bled shareholders saw through her plans to fob them off with a bum per dividend and a holiday in the sun boardroom coup had her heading for the dole queue.

That was one of the role plays introduced by Ben Yeo of Day Chocolate Company yesterday's Cocoa Sum mit, assisted by facilitators from Justice Arts Education and Comic Relief. It had delegates from across the camp experiencing trade issues in every possible scenario from under the thumb of an e vil plantation owner to running a leading chocolate com pany.

But how do we hand out such justice in real life? The message of the summit was simple — even the largest Fairtrade succeed" multi-nationals are starting care what their consumers think. And it's easy to send them the right messages-NO to firms $t\tilde{h}$ at facilitators were deluged exploit the workers and YES to those that have embraced the Fairtrade mark. And with two fantastic Fairtrade cafés here at Global Village, • "We could start a young there's never been a better chance to give it a try.

But there's so much more that we can do. The final workshop sessions participants practical ideas for raising the profile of Fairtrade here at GV, and back athome when camp is over. Find out more for yourself by reading the Ch ocolate Ch alle nge Manifesto online www.dubble.co.uk - sign up and join thousands of young people who want to send a message to the chocolate industry that things have to ch ange.

Day Chocolate Company are the people behind leading Fairtrade brands Dubble and Divine chocolate. They are unique in that they are owned by a group of cocoa farmers — the Kuapa Kokoo Co-operative in Ghana.

The Cocoa Summit was supported by the operative Group, one of the U.K.'s leading supporters of the Fairtrade movement. "It's a natural partnership for us," said Owen Jell of the Group — "we've been right behind Fairtrade from the start — and Day make all our own-brand chocolate too, using cocoa from the very farmers we've been hearing about today. It's all about what one co-operative can do to help another which is why it's great to see so much enthusiasm from the delegates to make

When they asked what could be done to help promote Fairtrade during and afte r GV, th e with responses from eager ch ocolate - lovers:

- "I'll link my website to Dubble "

co-operatives school"

- "What about our school uniforms? — if they're not Fairtrade, we won't wear
- "And how about our Woodcraft shirts? When can we have a Fairtrade Mark on them?"

The ideas that are emerging about trade will join with detailed research through the commissions set up for e ach Parliament priorities. All the threads will be pulled toge ther Monday, on h ope fully, with Declaration You th on Empowerment — an agenda to take action far beyond Global Village.

• Is the atall?—unscrupulous bosses fiddle the scales when the harvest is weighed

Wind continues to do dam age atGV06

V4 residents mourn the demise of their gate

sitme or has everything been blown down?

Yesterday there were strong winds blowing through the campsite at speeds of up to 6 Beaufort. The Village 4 gate was blown down and a lot of efforthad been put into making it and the whole village was proud of it. It took two days to make and one day to put up by elfins, pioneers and even venturers, so everyone's very Brendan Lee said that when he went to the toilet the entrance was fine but when he came back he found it had been "thrown to the floor by a roque gust of wind, sending people of all ages scattering.

This village, from Hornsey District, North London, and Germany, saved four German tents from certain peril as the delegation had gone to London. Another man, Simon Cadman, said he felt like crying as it was so humiliating. He cursed the wind for being so nasty, but said "Red Wolf gateway will rise again, we will not let the wind beatus!"

Over thirty other tents in Global Village also blew down including Sophie and Jacob's tentin VIIIage 8.

This must have been a horrible day for everyone whose tent blew down as it was raining as well so their possessions would have got

Hopefully the wind will clear up for the rest of the week as we don'tw antany m ore tentand gatew ay casualties.

Christopher Parsons and Sam Blackburn, V8

Beware the weather!

othing is safe from our new worstenemy: the weather! The weather has that it can. We have seen destroyed and marquees th at cannot be constructed.

Pre cau tions

Don't forget guy ropes. They may seem a nuisance at first, but in this weather they stop They also prevent waterproof cover from being ripped off, as happened to one of your reporters.

Peg everything down very securely so that your tentwon't fly off. Put the heaviest items (like your luggage, for example) near the corners of been ruth lessly destroying the tent to keep the edges of anything and everything your tent down. Be careful that you don't get things too crushed, signs close to the side though, as your outer and inner tents shouldn'tbe touch ing.

> If you've made some nice craft paintings or signs, be careful to not leave them out in the rain as the ink will run.

So don't forget — be very your tent caving in on you. careful and respect the weather.

> Andrew Kilburn & Fingal Plum pton, V18

The first town champions take abow in Pass for Pe ace tournament

hile the weather may not be beautiful, some of the football that the teams contesting in 'Pass For Peace' have been producing, certainly is.

The big news is that the Blue Whale Town are the first to crown their town champions! As Blue Whale is the one of the smallest groups, villages only needed to win their first round match in order to qualify for the town final. The first of these encounters was between V32 and V33. The match was decided on penalties after a hugely enjoyable 1 - 1 draw, $\sqrt{33}$ edging out $\sqrt{32}$ 5 - 3 on spotkicks. Louie H odgson from V32 was in upbeat mood despite the result "It was great fun and I don't mind that we're out." Village 34 took on Village 31 on the other side of the draw with the match initially ending in a stalemate, but when a penalty kick competition to get a result could not be scheduled. V31 sportingly dropped out, allowing V34 to move through to the final. The final itself between $\bigvee 33$ and $\bigvee 34$ was an entertaining affair with both communities getting village in√ol√ed. $\sqrt{34}$'s supporters were to end up the happier, with their team taking the Town championship with a 5 - 2 win, with help from their Nepalese

The action is also hotting up in the Golden Monkey Group, matches in the group was wrapped up by a 7 - 2 win for $\sqrt{7}$ over $\sqrt{8}$. This result sets up a second-round clash for $\sqrt{7}$ against $\sqrt{5}$ — the Red Wolf village posing as Golden Monkeys for the sake of tournament logistics.

Over in Indigo Snake Town, V41 battled for a 3 - 2 victory over V38 in an eagerly-contested match. The result means that V41 now meet V37in a match that offers the winners a place in the town final. Meanwhile V36 had the significant advantage of being the home of the Brazilian delegation and they certainly benefited from this as Wagner showed onlookers how to play the Brazilian way, grabbing all six goals for his team, ably assisted by Rosie, in their 6 - 3 win over V39. Keeper Brendan Ching also deserves a special mention for his crucial perform ance in the V36 goal.

The youngsters of $\sqrt{14}$ can be very proud of themselves after they did the early damage to V17, with V14 running out eventual 5 - 1 winners. The enthusiastic players from V14 can now be safe in the knowledge that they have secured a spot in the Yellow Parrot Town final.

There was a large German presence in the V4 and 6 teams that slugged it out in a latewhere the first round of night encounter in the Red Wolf Town. So late, in fact, that for much of the second half, the players had trouble picking each other out through the increasing gloom. The players did their utmost to overcome the conditions and it would seem that V6 have been eating their carrots as they emerged 8 - 3 victors. This means that $\sqrt{6}$ have the opportunity to lift the Red Wolftitle if they beat V2 in the town final.

> Finally, we can reveal that the final of the Green Turtle Town Group will be between Villages 23 and 27. $\sqrt{27}$ reached the final by beating $\sqrt{29}$ 2 - 1 with goals from Ben and Jack. V27's team was boosted by the arrival of Senegalese star Gorgui Diallo whose arrival at Global Milage had been delayed. Gorgui was ted no time, jum ping straight off the plane on to th e Tournament organisers will be coming round to the villages still involved in 'Pass For Peace' to inform you of your future fixtures. However, should you need to get in contact with the organising team, leave a message for Matt, Jim and Nicky at either V26 or the Camp Information Point and we will getback to you.

> > Pass for Peace team

Hungarian cuis ine in V16

The delegation of Hungary came with 10 people to this gorgeous meeting/camp. Both before and after the event, they are staying ateither Glouces ter or Cheltenham with the local Woodcraft Folk, with whom they have had good relationsh ip for years.

Village 16 be cam e a perfect place for the English, Chilean, Finnish and the H ungarians to be together as a family. The Hungarian Childfriends made a w onderful national meal on Thursday evening and showed a really exciting "nightshow" with lights.

They also made an exhibition about the H ungarian Childfriends and about Hungarian inventions. You wouldn't think how much stuff was used firstby Hungarians. Like Rubik's Cube, helicopters or the ballpointpen.

Making a traditional Hungarian meal in V16

The blanket from the IFM-SEI camp 10 years ago has also been brought to the GW 6 and people painted their hand-prints and names there.

You can buy a T-shirtfor £5 with the GWO 6 and H ungarian Child friends logo. It is worth it to come around here!

Vilm os H anti, V16

African Drummers bring warm to Global VIIIage

ay out in the bleak wilderness of village two, a lively rhythm can be heard. A delegation of South Africans are drum mingoutan energetic beat The delegation represent two organisations -Children's Resource Centre and the Place of Blessing - and include young people who have working with young people and dildren on such topics as gender empowerment and equality. Using methods including dance groups and music, the organisations provide positive activities for disadvantaged young people in Cape Town and through out South Africa.

The groups have got together whilsthere at Global Village to create a drumming and singing group playing gospel and traditional songs. Media Centre reporters James and Miles from Village 3 caughtup with them for

Whatkind of music do you

We sing different types of music lots of gospel, but also traditional where we play drums. We sing lots of songs where we have messages on different topics like gender equality and girl-dild

• The musicians record at a session for 87.7 FM Radio Global empowerment And some of the songs thatwe sing are just for fun. When did you learn to start drum m ing?

Mostly in our community we start dancing, singing and drumming at a very young age. It's just a way of expressing yourself it's not an individual thing and that's what I like about it You don't only play drums on your own we get together as a group to play, so it also requires te am w ork .

Whatinspires you?

What we do comes from way from our cultural environment We're all people that like to dance and sing and it's all about that Even when we're playing as kids, you sing, you dance and you act

Have you done any concerts? Lots and lots. Both our organisations have performed in several places for events involving the government and the community.

Is this something you've always wanted to do?

I always wanted to work with young people and at Global Village I have that chance, as I am involved in the gender tent and will be running a workshop hemissing diess setthat we reported on yesterday has been returned to the Democracy Centre by people from VIIIage 16. According to Vilm os, the leader of the H ungarian de legation, ak ind lady gave him permission to organise a di ess tournam en t Unfortunately, nobody knows where she is, nor where she comes from, or whethershew as in di arge of such decisions. Anyway, the problem has been solved now, and the chess set is back in the Democracy Centre so they can continue their enjoyable activities.

Greg Horváth Gergely

Fair Trade FactH unt

e asked people whatwe though tof the fair trade food at Global VIIIage these are some of their answers:

"It is very im portant, we can't be lie ve in som e thing if you don'tdo it," said a camper from Village 20

"I don'tk now if the food in the kitchen is fair trade but there is a lotaround."

"The chocolate is OK and the popcorn and candy floss is nice" said Jo Cole from Village 9.

"Itdoesn't tas te any different," said Soph ie from Village 11.

"It is tasty. Fairy trade cafe is good for the daytime but Tillyards is good for the e venings."

Then we asked a clan leader, Andrea from Village 9, if the food was fair trade. She replied that all the food in the kitchen was fair trade. We discovered thatoutof the people we asked, four people preferred Tillyards to the fairy trade cafe. Me and my friends had an unpleasantexperience at Fairy trade Cafe be cause we had towait twenty minutes for soup that we ended up so bored and fed up we left the

At the end of the day the fair trade system seems very fair butnow we need the restof the world to start to get fair trade food!

Eileen, Francina, Kirsty and Im ogen

Sauna Opens in Village 34

own little slice of the tropics has arrived, in the shape of a sauna. Tucked away in Blue Whale Town, th e Sustainability Centre and workers from Village 34 have been slaving away for 2 days to create this e co-friendly steam room.

n the greyest day of Two veteran Woodies, Alice The sauna is now open, it's GV06 so far, our Hall and Josie Knight (both free and you are welcome WCF) told us "It uses a lot work well even in bad shed, the roof insulation is 5 days, so come and let the sheep's wool and an old burning s to√e provides the heat for steam". Extra power is provided by 4 solar panels. Alice and Josie say "it has gone really well; its very 10, both from Leicester to just turn up. The panels of sustainable materials - weather, and there's the walls are from an old enough back-up power for solar sauna warm you up.

Matt, Connor & Matt

The Centre Spread

Welcome to MEST-UP!

MEST-UPstands for the "Mediation and Education Support team Umbrella Project".

MEST-UP offers a safe area to explore your identity and your relations with others, and also look at these issues in a wider context. It also helps people work through any problems they may be having - whether problems relating to camp or problems in their with their life in general. Mest Up has been running for about 5 years, since the last Woodcraft Folk International camp, although peereducation has been running for a lot longer. At Global Village, Mest Up involves five different areas - Peer Education, Mediation, the Rainbow tent and the Boy's and Girl's tents. Although they do not focus on a particular Millenium Development Goal, Mest Up's work covers a lot of the Global Village themes such as Prejudice, Water and Health and Conflict.

Peer Education

eer Ed try to empower people to help themselves by providing inform ation on various personal issues. Peer Education as a conceptinvolves young people teaching their peers (fellow young people) about issues relevant to them. At Global VIIIage the peered tent provide inform ation on issues such as drugs, sex, relationships, alcohol and mentalissues. It also provides impartial support by having safe spaces where people can talk to one of the trained members of the peered team. The MEST-UP Peer eductaion follows am ode I called the 'Egans m odel'. This involves four stages which can be realsied during the converstaion. The first stage is to find the problem, which m ay notbe as obvious as it first seems. The second stage is solution - discussing what the ideal solution is, and also what is a realistic solution. The third stage is strategy, which is how the solution could be reached. The final stage is action - what are they actually going to do. The peered team try to facilitate this process by asking non-leading impartial questions and using other techniques such as refelictive listening.

· Members of the peereducation team outside the MEST-UP tent.

National Orgasm Day

Participants were left screaming with delight by the end of MEST-UP's highly popular national orgasm day workshop. Aimed at the 16+ audience, the focus was not only on informing young people about the dangers of sexually transmitted infections and contraception but also on how to have a healthy sexual relationship. For years MEST-UPh ave provided young adults with free condoms, tea, lubrication, fruit, and information on other methods of contraception.

By brain-s torm ing various contrace ptives and STIs we learnt from each other's experiences and shattered many myths. This complemented the fantastic information available in the extensive collection of leaflets and books located in the MEST-UP tent.

We also discussed the importance of being relaxed and comfortable in order to get the most out of sexual relationship. Ideas ranged from a romantic walk in the woods to a hot and steamy bubble bath.

Afterwards a little anatom y lesson on the less publicised parts of the body ranging from the Gspots to prostate. This enabled people to feel more com fortable with their bodies, remove any stigmastill associated with perfectly natural behaviour. Going beyond the basics of sexual awareness we created a forum of sexual expression that left none unsatisfied.

This Tuesday, 11-16 year olds can enjoy a MEST-UP Sex-Ed work shop. The focus will be on why people have sex and stressing the importance of being comfortable and making the right decision. It will also go into detail regarding health issues including contraception and STIs.

If you can't attend a work shop, the tent will be open in the evenings so come in and talk about any of these issues with the hard working friendly team.

Charlie Keys & Hertha

Mediation to the rescue

Mediation is brilliant, or so says H azel Mason.

Mediation is a peace ful form of conflict resolution whereby two mediators encourage conflicting parties to talk to each other and come to their own solutions.

It is particularly appropriate in a situation such as Global Village, where different cultures and back grounds can cause conflict.

Communication and open dialogue are both key elements that allow problems to be resolved. Mediation can help people open up and talk in an environment where both sides views are going to be listened to.

The mediator is merely a facilitator in the conflict resolution process.

Mediation can be used in many different situations from large scale conflicts as an alternative to war (we feel mediation would be very useful right now in the Middle East!) to smaller

"Mediation is the best thing I've done all cam p" ow III ure maller disagree ments be tween friends over boyfriend s or girlfriend

s. On Global Village, people are encouraged to use the mediation service to sort out any problems or conflicts to make campa happier place.

Yesterday the mediation centre ran an in depth workshop for leaders on the mediation process and conflict resolution.

One leader said it was the best thing he'd done all camp!

The workshop tried to enable leaders to sort out conflicts in their district and in their village them selves, and to spread the skills of mediation

H azel Mason

Rainbow Tent

he rainbow tentis a place for veryone to explore their identity nd sexuality. They offer iform ation and advice, or justa iendly diat They have a range of affets and magazines covering ings such as com ingout, lesbian ay and bisexual issues and eneralhealth and wellbeing. The entre is open mostofthe day for rop in, and also runs work shi ops n specific issues. So far there ave been work shops on things (e com ingout, discrim ination nd prejudice and vagina onologues dram a sessions. The entre also shows films on esbian/Gay/Bisexual issues in e Groovy Movie Cinema-see rogram listings for more info aturday is rainbow day, and ere will be a parade starting at e rainbow tent, ending up with rainbow themed disco. The ainbow tenth ave been running ork shops preparing for this, ach as craftwork shops in which eople have made a giantpaper adie penis and vagina.

Girl's Tent

The girl's tent provides a space for girls to discuss personal 'girl' issues in a safe, relaxed atm osphere. They run a series of workshops and drop ins looking at all sorts of issues from sexual h $arrasm\ ent$ to identityand stere otypes. The centre has also been exploring fem inism, looking at its roots, the need for feminism, fem in ism in the present day and the future and its links to socialism.

Boy's Tent

Similarly, the boys tentoffers activities for boys only, look ing atm ale related issues. This centre has been exculsively organised by members of the Rote Falkens, who have builton their expereince at their own cam ps to bring something new to a cam p h os ted by the Woodcarft Folk. The boys tentlooks atmale image and identity. W ork shops have explored things like machosim - do you have to be muscley to be mach o? There have also been activities aim ed atbreaking down stere otypes - for exam ple dancing for boys.

The Future?

MESTUPh as been running very successfully this camp, reaching out to lots of people in need, young and old. We have done some things for the first time this camp, for exam ple the boys and girls tents, a Rote Falken concept were partofour projectfor the first time this camp. However there is always room for im provements. Som e ideas are to de volve the skills of peer education and mediation, for example by having people in every district trained in these are as, so that support is more widely available and can reach m ore people. In the future we hope to have more international members and stronger links with the IFM-

Itwould be great to see future camps, large and small, having an ever growing MESTUP presence.

E√an's E√enings

Flap flap flap, what's that? Hah! It's the sound of 'The March of the Penguins', a be autifully film ed expose of the secretilizes of everybody's favorite flying birds, being shown in the Red Wolftown marquee after the news. The Palestinians continue their tute lage of the masses in Green Turtle town marquee at the same time. All fire performers, I'll see you (nonflam ing) during the day, to im plementoutfire show on the Mestup field ataround 9 O'clock.Once agin, myself, Ash or John y are your men to see about all things flam mable. 'The Corporation' takes over the projectors of Groovy Movie, in another lively film and debate combo from 9 0 clock onwards. Battle of the bands draws all of the sap like talent from the woodwork th atis Global Village, making and breaking a million adolescentdreams. This kicks offin the Cornwallis at around 9 O'clock . Young rappers under the tute lage of Emanue I Jal perform for us in Fairy Trade at 8:30, promising to speak the truth in real time, This is followed by a 60 s evening, involving m any appropriate tunes, not to mention the odd paor of flairs. Up and coming collective The Stations, play Tillyards at 9:30, followed by Una Ryder, a singer songwriter with a voice to lull your fears. The Pales tinains continue to rep in the Green Turtle town Marquee, educating all on the realities of their situation. After the educational film in Groovey Movie, we have a partivularly excting Multimedia Cabaret, I suggest who lehear tedly that you attend. I'll leave you with a though t.

Chill outnightsaw unprecedented levels of h orizon tality, h owever, some were still keen to meander around site. All of ya'll, especially the olderkids who feel left out by sections of the e ve ning program m e, ple ase com e and see m e. Th is is a far m ore preferable option th an organising mobile raves mere metres from the sleeping forms of very cute elfins (who, non-the-less get crankywhenkeptawake by Gabba/Dubstep/Grime/Trip Hop). Good night, this colum n w as m y latest submission yet, as I tap the lastkey, I hear the first piercing tone of a morning songbird. Why will they not sh utup?

Fancy a trip to India?

If you have enth usiasm ideas and time to contribute to youth projects promoting AIDS aw are ness and other issues in India, contact Prof. Anil Navale, regional secre tary of Asia's IFM - SEI and involved in the ANTAR BH ARTI INDIA organisation. Anil and Malti Navale, are here with other representatives from their organisation, looking for inspiration and potential young volunteers to help educate the youth of Asia. To find outmore, find them in V22, green turtle or em ail: anil.navale@gm ail.com

Plane t-tree menders needed

Earth in crisis - Emergency help needed. Design a better future for your community and make a pledge to help the planet Workshop 3-5pm Friday at the Sustainability Centre (Workshop 4 area). Age 10 and over. Maximum 16 places

Falken Hoodie Lost

Black with white writing, has "Toby" written on the label (that's me!). Leftin Tillyards a few days ago. Lastseen hanging behind the Tillyards bar. I've been coldevery night since and can'tafford a new one. If found, please return to either Tillyards or village 8. Thanks

Toby Osm ond

Media Centre this weekend

There will be no Global Voice tom orrow, Saturday - butlook out for a special open day edition early on Sunday m orning. Sunday will also give you the opportunity to catch upwith the other campmedia-Radio Global will be playing the bestbits so far from 7am, whilst there's the opportunity to catch up with the first seven days of GV: TV in the Cornwallis building from 6pm. There will be no GV:TV in town marquees on Sunday evening - things return to norm alon Monday, with GV:TV running in town m arquees at 8pm . Media centre editorial meetings will continue to run over the weekend at 10 am each m orning - all are welcome, and we would especially like to see m ore international delegations com ing along to help make som e thing for the camp media.

The media centre will be closed for a well-earned break from

after lunch tom orrow

m orning.

(Saturday) until Sunday

Is ita floris t? Is itame adow? No, it's a tent!

am ping h as suddenly be come posh and stylish with new and cool tents made by Cath Kidson and Eurohike.

These tents seem to be taking over, and they are becoming more popular then the old original Vangos.

We have found over thirty at Global Village and there are three in Village 33 alone. These tents may look groovy and funky but are they actually practical for the tough weather conditions?

We spoke to Robin Parsnips, the proud owner of the Cath Kidson tent you can see in the picture.

How does it feel to own a flowery tent? I feel proud and honoured. With outitmy life and camping would never be the same.

Are there any downsides to this type of tent?

I think they should design larger and stronger ones because all my friends beg to share with me, and the walls cave in. How much does it cost? It's a great deal, it costs just over £50, but I did have to beg my dad for weeks to buy me one. Although the range of funky tents is great, the textile designs seem to be clearly girl orientated. We think there should be a wider range of choices for boys, as out of a gigantic 33 tents, we only found 1 tent suitable for boys.

So, enjoy your funky tent, but, if you want something substantial go for the good ol'orange Vango!

Im ogen Yung & Miriam Wulf

Noch e Latinoam erica

ste sabado, el Fairy Trade Cafe albergara las 13 de le gacione s latinoam ericanas presentes en el Global Village 2006 para hacer de esta una noch e llena de alegria y, a la wez, servira para estrech ar lazos de am istad. El encuentro se lle vara a cabo a las 20 h y estara abierto a todos y todas del festival.

Segun Anna Maria Forsberg de Paula, Vice pre side n ta de la IFM-SEI, las organizaciones presentaran elementos de la cultura latinoam ericana, sobre todo musica y danza tipicas. "Este encuentro, dentro del marco del Global Village, de fine una ne ce sidad de promover la integracion entre los diferentes paises de la region v. por otro lado, dar a conocer el trabaio que vienen desarrollando las organizaciones de nues tra Internacinal en America Latina", explica Anna Maria.

Durante la noche, quienes com parezcan a este e vento podran disfrutar de ritm os com o salsa, merengue y bach ata. Habra asim ism o una perform ance de bailes tipicos de Brasil (maracatu, coco, samba, fre vo y ciranda) y capoeira. "Sera un momento para rescatar nuestras raices historicas y culturales," dice Flaira Ferro, integrante de la delegacion del Mirim - Brasil.

Tam bien sera lanzada la ide a de construccion de un pe titorio h e ch o por los ninos y ninas, con sus propias le tras, sobre derechoalaeducacion pidiendo el aum ento del presupues to para es ta are a. "Que re m os que los gobiernos escuchen nues tro pedido", dice uno de los ninos del Club Infantil 23 de Mayo Chap. CARNAVAL - El dom ingo, cuando el Global Village estara abierto a visitantes, tendra lugar a partir de las 12h una féria internacional de artesania. Antes de la feria, se h ara un recorrido en el area del festival, saliendo de la villa 40 (Indigo Snake) al ritm o de m usica latinoam ericana, culm inando en un anim ado carnaval.

n Saturday night, the Fairy Trade Cafe will play host to the 13 different Latin American delegations represented here at Global Village. The evening will combine lots of fun with the opportunity to extend links across the continent. The activities will begin at 8 o'clock and will be open to everybody at the festival.

Carnival: On Sunday, when Global Village will be open to visitors, there will be an international carnival beginning at 12 noon. Beforeh and, a parade will leave Village 40 (Indigo Snake town) and will make its way to an exciting finish accompanied by Latin rhythms.

The youngestcam per?

Alfie Byrom, Village 14, was born on 10 th March this year. He's now four months and 24 days old.

Alfie's mum, Jennifer Byrom, said "He's having a really good time on camp. He's sleeping better here than at home and he's made lots and lots of new friends."

The Middle EastDilemma

We share core values such as peace, justice and cooperation, so it's not surprising that the situation in the Middle Eastis de ve loping in to one of the major issues of concern, em otion and discussion on GV06. The situation is deeply political and rooted in a long, complexhistorywhich many of us struggle to unders tand. The Pales tinian de legation in V28 have already been able to share their firsthand experience with fellow campers, and offer valuable insights on the conflict Unfortunately the Israelidelegation could not com e as they were not allowed to leave the country, and we are poorer for their absence. Many other campers however also have knowledge and experience to sh are.

I went to Tuesday's meeting unanimously agreed by a following a request for action showing of hands, as was a Pales tinian th e delegation. The following is my attempt to report on the events of the meeting as impartially as I am able.

The meeting was chaired by Rich ard Kirkwood from Hackney District, V3, who opened the meeting. A member of the Palestinian delegation and a Woodcraft member of Lebanese origin gave brief introductory accounts of life for the Palestinians at present. The meeting was then opened to suggestions of possible camp activities and action and which could be taken.

The meeting quickly became a political discussion and a lively and vigorous debate ensued. The debate wenton for about an hour and a quarter before the chair attempted to reach a consenus am ong the gathered individuals.

Three motions were passed: a call for a complete cease fire was motion to allow humanitarian aid. A motion in line with the aims of The Woodcraft Folk and the IFM-SEI to call for the protection of children's rights on all sides of the conflict was also agreed.

The other motion, that all sides are to abide by U.N. resolutions, went to a vote. Although a majority voted in favour, some people voted against and there were some abstentions. In the interest of promoting unity among those gathered, the motion was withdrawn by the proposer.

At this point in the meeting the chair moved to the organisation of activities and people formed into small groups by a show of hands and adding names to lists. As it was getting very late these groups met at a later time to discuss practicalities.

Heather Atkins, V14 with Jenni Brooks, V1

Young people from V32 express everyone's wish for the Middle East

The IFM declaration

Stop killing innocent children in the Middle-

IFM-SEI reaffirms the need for an immediate ceasefire in the Middle East. We are deeply concerned at the continuing conflict in the Middle East, by the pain and tragedy which continues to afflict innocent is only through dialogue and civilians and in particular children. Once again IFM-SEI strongly reiterates its call for an end to the hostilities in the region and for an urgent, immediate and total cease fire.

The logic of peace, not war, should prevail in these testing times for the international community, as should the logic of law, not force, in the region. No argumentshould be allowed obvious and basic dem and for a and The continuous unconditionally ce ase fire . breach of children's rights in its definition by the UN Convention of the Rights of the especially not acceptable! It maximum extent possible the m uststop im mediately!

negotiation and not through war that peace will be reached, believes that the time has come to work for the holding of a new Peace Conference to lay the foundations and a new framework upon which the countries and peoples of the Middle East, as well as the international community, can look forward to a just, lasting and comprehensive peace in the entire region.

killing innocent to stand in the way of the clear, All involved parties, politicians actors h a∨e respect rights children's and particular Article 6, that every child has the inherent right to Child by all involved parties is life and to ensure to the survival and development of The IFM-SEI, convinced that it the child. The acceptance of is only through dialogue and child casualties by all parties is a complete denial of any sense of humanity and civilisation. From now on all decisions and actions taken by the involved parties and the international community have to put the life and well being of all children as their first priority!

> Declaration of the IFM-SEI presidium

Adopted 3rd August 2006

Th e Pales tinian √ie w

Ahmed Tariq from village 28 is keen to see the Global Village take a strong position on the Middle East crisis and take positi√e actions. particularly like to see us put pressure on the British Government to stop the m assacre in Lebanon,"he said. Ahmed is the leader of the Palestinian delegation that come from the West Bank and are from different religious groups. "We want to see people contacting their MPs and alerting them to the crisis," he said, adding that he was concerned that the ministers of this country are not doing enough about the Middle East conflict.

The Palestinian delegation say that they are pleased with the response they have received while talking to people in Global Milage, and tell us that pe op le are supportive of their conerns. "We want everybody here to know about the situation and for there to be more discussions", Ah m ed says.

"Children are dying and we want everyone to get together and talk about what can be done."

The group will be organising a number of presentations while they are here, making the most of th e ir ch ance com m unicate close ly personally to the international community here at the Global Village.

James Conway, V35

different √ie w

Shortly before the start of Global Village we received sad news that a child from the Israeli IFM organisation Noar Oved was killed by a missile, one of hundreds which have been launched on Israel for months now. The present situation in the Middle East gives our sister organisation difficult tasks, as they are consciously organising members of very different social and religious groups in their region, from Druze, Bedouins to Arabs and Jews.

Are human rights not for Israelis who have to live with suicide bombings and with laundi e d from m issiles Palestinian and Lebanese territory ? If basic human especially dilldren's - rights are offended (right to education, to water, electricity, a decent life) you should claim these rights also for Israelis.

The Palestinian government is controlled by Hamas, a fundam entalist re ligious organisation. Their open claim is to destroy the Israeli state by force of weapons. Should anyone give money to an organisation which aims to annih ilate Israel?Ofcourse not. Hamas, unfortunately, is only of the anti-Semitic organisations and tendencies which can be found in Europe

Support our Israeli com rades in their struggle for peace and solidarity. No anti-Israeli demonstrations on this cam p.

Bjoern Oellers and Sophie Jaenicke, V8

Events planned during GV06

- On Saturday be tween 11 a.m. and noon in the Co-operative Centre the word 'PEACE' will be spelled outwith pioneers and
- Footprint cutouts will be decorated with messages of peace to be displayed on Sunday Open
- · Large outouts of the Lebanese cedar tree will be distributed to each village to display where ver they can. Children will be encouraged to write messages of peace on paper leaves and attach them to the trees.
- Individual villages have already begun making banners for a parade on Sunday.
- For the older villagers there will be work shops outlining the history of the Middle East conflict Exact times will be given in nextweek's program me but there will be a presentation in the peace and conflict centre for venturers, DFs and adults.

- Meanwhile the Palestinian de legation are putting on a presentation every night in the Green Turtle town marquee at9
- The Palestinians have drafted a letter that is to be sent out to MPs by individuals here at Global Millage. If you would like a copy to em ail or postthen you should drop by the Fairy trade Cafe.
- A m inibus will be providing transport for people whowish to join the parade in London, but m ore drivers are encouraged if they wish to take groups down them selves. No unaccompanied under 18s will be taken and anyone interested should meetin the Yellow Parrotmarquee after the news on Friday evening.
- · Activities are still being organised and more volunteers and suggestion are welcomed. If you would like to ge tin volved ple ase contact Rich and Kirk wood who can be found in V3 or ph oned on 0 79 0 3 0 19 336.

Global Village The FirstWeek

